Intro bit..

Next Tea with Teela evening is on the 18th October.
Starts at 7pm.

Hey girls,

I hope this newsletter finds you fit and well and managing to hold off those horrible bugs that are now doing the rounds!!

Wasn't the last Tea evening good? So many of you turned up that we didn't have enough parking outside!! It was so good to see so many familiar faces and a couple of new ones too. Welcome to those girls who came for the first time, I hope you enjoyed it so much you want to come back again next month.

The next Tea evening will be on Monday 28th October.

As Tilly is on YET ANOTHER holiday, there is no blog for this month but I will make sure that she makes it up to you by bringing you an extra long one next month.

Tilly and I will be at the Harmony Weekend in Matlock Bath on Saturday 30th October (please spare us the Witch similarity jokes!!!!) with lots of freebies and goodies for sale - hope to see you there.

If any one has any special stories or articles that you would like featured in this newsletter, please email me on teela@transpose.tv

Girl of the month

Jessika from Holland.....

Transpose has girls from far and wide coming to visit for their make-over and photo-shoot. This month, Jessika came for her photo-shoot all the way from Holland. She purposefully made the appointment to coincide with our monthly Tea evening so she could meet all the other girls. So, here is our very own Dutch girl -Jessika."

"I had a great day, thank you Teela-Jane - it was good to meet all your girls too"

MAID FOR LIFE

Nancy's Story

Chapter Eight

"The Cheshire Set"

Over the past few months I have described some of the ups and downs of my life "in service" as a part-time TV maid. After all these trials and tribulations, during which I had travelled around the UK in search of a suitable position, I heard about an amazing lady who not only ran a dressing service but might also offer occasional opportunities for me to work for her at her country residence in the heart of Cheshire, quite close to my own home.

"Lady B", and her assistant Elaine, seemed pleased to meet me on my initial visit, especially as I arrived with several classical maid's uniforms which I had bought over the years. Their dressing service was extremely well organised and, as I soon became a regular visitor, I learned that they expected everything to be done correctly. The premises, which occupied three storeys with a private flat on the top floor, had to be kept clean and tidy at all times.

Her Ladyship always required me to dress, and do my own make-over, as soon as I arrived so that I could be put to work without delay. Often there were other "ladies" visiting and I soon got to recognize some of the regulars who came in every week. One or two were retired folk for whom the opportunity to spend a day each week as their "alter ego" was an important part of their lives. Some seemed quite well-to-do and able to afford very classy outfits, especially for the "special occasions" which Her Ladyship arranged from time to time.

One very special occasion which I will always remember was a Charity Garden Party at Her Ladyship's country residence. I was invited – or instructed – to attend there one August Bank Holiday weekend.

When I arrived I was allocated one of the bedrooms and informed that, once I was dressed, I was to help prepare and serve food and drinks in Her Ladyship's huge and beautiful garden to over a hundred "straight" guests!

I loved it! For the first hour or so I was stationed at the entrance to the garden and required to curtsy to each guest as they arrived and to offer them a drink. Then, throughout the afternoon and into the evening, I had to walk around the garden, tray in hand, topping up everybody's drinks and serving sandwiches etc. It was a glorious summer weekend and when the party was over, and I asked Her Ladyship if I could "go off duty" and return home, I was secretly thrilled to be told that I was to stay on and serve her and her family!

It was not unusual for Her Ladyship to insist on me staying on duty for longer than had been arranged. Occasionally I would only discover, after I was changed and busy with the housework, that she would be entertaining friends later that day and I was required to remain on duty to serve during the evening.

On other occasions I would be escorted by Elaine to attend Northern Concord events in Manchester, which I also loved doing. We would go into Manchester early in the evening and walk around the shops or around the village as well as attending the regular Wednesday evening gatherings. And for a couple of years Her Ladyship got me to accompany her to "Le Big En", the three-day Northern Concord event which takes place every February. For these I was treated by Her Ladyship as her personal maid, so had to be by her side, or on call, throughout the weekend. I will tell readers more about these weekends when I write again next month.

Sexy-taries

Belinda

Belinda (our cover girl) was my PA twice this month and a great help she was too - keeping me in coffee, helping out with the Tea night and generally tidying up after my mess. She was a joy to have around!

Belinda

Other sexy-taries this month included Michelle and Caroline. Unfortunately Caroline didn't want her photo to appear but both girls did a really great job.

If you fancy a day as my sexy-tary, please book your day soon.

Prize-Winners!

Two prize winners claimed their prizes this month. Jenny Banford won the Transpose raffle at Sparkle 2010 and Paula won the raffle on our launch night last March. It was tough just to pick one of their pictures - they were all great!! Here are their results!!!
